A BLOODY CRIME IN ASHE

Two Men and a Woman Chopped to Pieces With an Axe.

Jefferson, Special.—The most horrible tragedy that has ever been enacted in the memory of the oldest inhabitants of the county took place Sunday, at the foot of the Alleghany mountain range, just inside of this country. Creek Davis, with an axe, cut to pieces two men and his own wife.

The story of the crime runs thus: Davis, who lived at the foot of the mountain, was visited by two former friends and acquaintances, Alfred Barker and son, Levi, who lived near Chilhowie, Va. They had stopped at his house on their way to see their relatives in this section. Davis seemed very clever and insisted on their spending the night with him. They consented and when bedtimes came every one was in the house retired. The two visitors occupied the same bed. Davis and his wife occupied another bed close by, possibly in the same room. Hardly had they retired when Mrs. Davis heard a noise, and on looking toward where the Barkers were sleeping, saw her husband with the axe, cutting the Barkers to pieces. She sprang out of the bed and tried to keep her husband from killing the old man, Alfred, and immediately Davis gave her two blows that sent her to the floor. Levi had been wounded by the first blow, that had split his head open and cleanly, one split the back of his neck. Alfred had been saved apparently by Mrs. Davis, as he had time to crawl out of the bed and into a doorway, close by. Nevertheless, he was bleeding like a hog and will die, having received the axe up to the hilt, in his stomach and having his right arm cut off. Alfred says that as he lay in the field he heard the awful blows that followed on the body of Mrs. Davis, and heard her groans grow fainter and fainter. But the woman was not yet killed, ad after the excitement had subsided Davis took his wife in the house, washed her wounds and washed himself. Davis' little girl, with the baby in her arms, was the one who gave the alarm, as she was escaping for her life at the outset.

When people came in they found Davis sitting by his wife administering to her wants, but the woman seemed to be in such agony she paid little attention to what was going on. Davis said: "I guess I have killed them, but I didn't know it." A surgeon summoned from Mountain City, Tenn., gave it out that all would certainly die and the rumors are current that Davis is the woman's dead.

A charter is granted to the Hiss Manufacturing Company, with headquarters at Charlotte. Its capital is $500,000, authorized and of this George H. Hiss, John M. Rhodes and D. O'Donnell each owns 50 shares. There are to be common and preferred stock, and no dividends. The stock is held 75 per cent in dividends, anything after these are paid going to holders of common stock. The company's privileges are extensive—to deal in and manufacture machinery, to make and deal in textile materials; to own and develop and operate water powers and manufacturing plants.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of Greensboro Female College, held Friday afternoon, it was decided to close this institution. For some time this action has been under advisement, but not until yesterday was the matter definitely determined upon. At this meeting all but five shares of the stock were represented, the following trustees being present: Dr. Dred Peacock, C. H. Ireland, J. A. Odell, Prof. O. W. Carr, of Greensboro; J. M. and W. R. Odell, of Concord, and R. T. Gray, of Raleigh.

Davis is in jail here, having been bound over to court.

Accident at Hamlet.

Hamlet, Special.—J. C. Haverley, day operator at the north yard, was run over by a switch engine, here Tuesday morning at 7:20 o'clock and injured so badly that he died four hours later. There was no eye witness to the accident, but from a statement made immediately after the occurrence, it seems that he was walking the main line, going from the depot to the yard, and seeing passenger train No. 31, which had stopped on the side-track, and the engine running parallel with No. 31, and which he had not observed, struck him. His right leg and shoulder were badly maimed.

Shipping Cotton to New Orleans.

Boston, Special.—The Morgan line steamer El Monte, is due at Mystic wharf next Monday from New York to take a shipment of 8,000 square bales of cotton to New Orleans. This cotton is now being received at the terminal from the Tremont and Suffolk Mills. Lowell, and the entire consignment will be in the shed by the first of the week. This cotton, it is said, is being sent back to the South to cover the shorts in their July delivery. A Philadelphia concern is said to be the purchaser of the cotton from the mills.

Aycock at Vanderbilt.

Nashville, Tenn., Special.—Governor Chas. B. Aycock, of North Carolina, delivered the annual address before the literary societies of Vanderbilt University in the University Chapel. His subject was "Education." Governor Aycock will attend the University commencement exercises and leave for Chattanooga in the afternoon.

Call For Temperance Convention.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League has called a convention in Raleigh to meet July 7th. The objects are set forth as being to unite and solidify the temperance sentiment and prepare for a vigorous campaign against the saloon. Plans will be devised and committees appointed at this meeting.

It makes close connection with the points North daily Richmond.

SUICIDE AT GASTONI

Young Man Under Indictment Takes His Own Life.

Gastonia, Special.—E. E. Caldwell, a young merchant who had been arrested for retailing whiskey, late Wednesday night, committed suicide in rear of his store near the Loray Mills.

Usually very little attention is given by the public to the indictments and trials before magistrates of those accused by violating the whiskey laws. This was the case, when it was casually mentioned on the streets of the city that young Caldwell, who has been running for about a year a grocery store near the Loray Mills, had been indicted for this offense, tried before a magistrate and bound over to court under a $200 bond. Every one was unanimous. Mule spinners and loom fixers were included in this vote. The meeting lasted an hour. There was no dissension. The situation was discussed carefully and with no suggestion of excitement. The vote showed every delegation favorable to a return to work at once. When asked for a statement, President Conroy said smilingly: "We now worship at the altar of defeat, but later we shall rise again and conquer."

Agent William Southwick, secretary of the agents, said: "It will be impossible to start the balance of the machinery so as to employ at once all who will come back. Running with an incomplete force for three weeks has disturbed the balance that usually exists between stock and prices in the various departments. A mill may have depleted stock in certain kinds of yarn and for that reason be unable to start all of its looms, even if the full complement of help is available. It is the selling agents and the treasurers to decide, in view of the market, whether we shall attempt to run in full."

The strike began on March 30th, and involved about 17,000 operatives. The mills were shut down until June 1, when the agents opened the gates and the majority of the operatives went back to work. The strike has cost in wages about $1,300,000.

It is understood that the agents will take back all the old help they have room for and will make no discriminations in the leaders of the strike movement. The high price of cotton precluded any hope of the success of the strikers' demand for a 10 per cent.

Could Not Agree.

Jackson, Ky., Special.—The jury in the case of Jett and White, charged with the murder of Lawyer James K. Marcus, was discharged, having been unable to agree. At 8 o'clock the jury filed into the court room and Foreman Richard Millard said:

"Your Honor, we find no chance of coming to an agreement."

Judge Redwine said:

"I will keep you gentlemen until Saturday night, unless you get a verdict sooner. There is no reason why a verdict should not be reached in the party."

The strike began on March 30th, and involved about 17,000 operatives. The mills were shut down until June 1, when the agents opened the gates and the majority of the operatives went back to work. The strike has cost in wages about $1,300,000.

TEXTILE COUNCIL DECLARES IT OFF

The Strike Began on March 30th, Involved 17,000 Workers and Cost Many Millions of Dollars.

Lowell, Mass., Special.—The textile council Sunday declared the great strike at the Lowell mills at an end. Every union affiliated with the council was represented and the vote was unanimous. Mule spinners and loom fixers were included in this vote. The meeting lasted an hour. There was no dissension. The situation was discussed carefully and with no suggestion of excitement. The vote showed every delegation favorable to a return to work at once. When asked for a statement, President Conroy said smilingly: "We now worship at the altar of defeat, but later we shall rise again and conquer."

"It is perfectly absurd to suppose for an instant that I have any desire to re-enter public life. Nor have I remotely entertained the thought since I left Washington more than six years ago. The matter is as far from my thoughts as it was in 1896 when all men admit that it was not within my hearing or sight. I have no higher aspirations than to pass my days in peace with my family around me and to take no part in politics which any private citizen cannot take with utmost propriety."

"I have never spoken to anybody on the subject of a fourth candidacy. I have never written a single political friend one way or the other nor have I before been written to or spoken to by them. There is not a political leader of any prominence endeavoring to advance any movement to nominate me in any State, so far as I have been advised, nor do I anticipate that any such effort will be made by any leader, prominent or obscure, in any locality.

"I have on several occasions within the year undertaken to perform the labor which usually falls to the private in the rear ranks but there has not lurked within me the hope of any reward save the consciousness of having made an effort to assist in bringing about salutary conditions in the party."

DEMOCRATIC EGOTISM.

A Review of the Fruits of "Good Government" as Observed by one of our Readers.

Diocles is no name for the "democratic Bible" the great exponent of the "untutored" democracy. That paper says there is "something funny and laughable" when a free-born American citizen is pelted with rotten eggs, and in saying this condones the act. To the democrat in office life is one great sweet song. Out of office he is ready again to fire on Sumpter, and kindle another flame of civil war.

He was out of office when the now historical rotten eggs were cast in the air to find lodgment in the judicial literature of our state. To remedy this condition, or in the language of the democratic Bible, to "seduce the state" a short gun campaign was decided upon and rotten eggs were but one of the means resorted to for destroying the foundation and sustaining power of ancestral liberty of late this exponent of the "untutored" democracy has adorned its pages with a Milky Way of Great Men the legislators of our state. To its votaries who we pity this must have been a reminder of the days of Pericles one of the greatest ages of the world. The Superintendent of Public Instruction appeals to these men to sustain the character of a "pledge keeping party." As these words were not perfunctory they must have conveyed a certain meaning in their irony. For who of us can recall a pledge made to the people they have not violated? If the "brainy" mad legislators, the outcome of the shot gun campaign, had set the precedent of holding two sessions each year, one to enact laws and the other to repeal them, then the Supreme Court would have been relieved of the labor, as Mr. Craig said of declaring unconstitutional every important act of that body except the election law, and he says they had to keep in session to avoid that.

Then the attempted impeachment of the judges would have been avoided with its great waste of the people's money. Had their successors adopted this plan of an enacting and repealing session each year, simply voting and allowing the usual appropriations to stand then no issue of bonds with their burden of interest, under which the people must stagger, would have been necessary, suffice it to say that under the good (?) government ushered in by the shot gun campaign with its attendant rotten eggs and reign of terror murder has increased two fold manslaughter four fold and other crimes 70 percent says Judge Clark, and this is the signal of the wilful murder, simply to make a demonstration" of scores of unarmed people some days after the mantle of good government had fallen upon our defenseless heads and the state redeemed.

Famine in Kwang

Pekin, June 3 (via Victoria, B. C., June 22).—The famine in Kwang-Si, is growing worse by degrees, the number of starving people being estimated at 200,000, with deaths daily. The British authorities at Hong Kong, aided by public subscriptions, have been sending aid for two months. A Japanese report says cannibalism is being practiced and that human flesh is publicly offered for sale.

CHIEF-CHAT. (By A. V. DOCKERY.)

If people do not believe there is a revolution of feeling throughout the country districts they ought to take a trip with the new tax assessors.

The farmer is being brought to his full sense of governmental responsibility and shame at Red Shirt methods by having his lands tenuities and other opportunities assessed at a higher value than ever before.

The same farmer has been kicking at corporations for several years, but he is now preparing to kick at his own funeral. What will he do when the sheriff comes around to collect the taxes?

He may think that he is paying too much to educate in gross and every white man even if we do not have such a good government as was promised.

We have "scattered" Bauer and destroyed his entire farm in漫游 and a day to drink, more and let the people more easily.

If the dismemberment of the negro will bring vengeance upon property holders by educating him, there will not be much pleasure in the performance.

And crime has become embellished in its sick abroad.

The people of Servia are getting almost as good a government as we have in Carolina. Having just murdered their King and elected a new one they have increased the salaries of the murderers.

There will still be enough whiskey to fight snakes with.

We have oodles of educational mad mullahs in our state.

There appears to be a misapprehension among some rural mail carriers they think a share of the letters belong to themselves.

The Oklahoma Indians are striding towards civilization. They have "black balled" white folks out of the Baptist Church.

The Wilson good government people will possibly inconvenience one or two of the murders but then we have apportioning if not an unpardonable Governor.

A HEAD ON COLLISION.

Wreck Near Southern Pines in which Four Men Were Killed.

Southern Pines, N. C., June 23. The first wreck which has happened in this section for many years occurred at 10 o'clock this morning about 200 yards north of Niagara station and three miles north of Southern Pines.

From the best information at hand it appears that a flying engine left the station of Vass, a small station still further north, about three miles of this place, without orders, going south, and attempted to make the siding at Manly, a half-way station between Southern Pines and Niagara. Local freight train No. 6 northbound left Southern Pines on time and was running on regular orders under full headway down grade and was run into by the flying engine going at the rate of forty-five miles an hour.

It was a head on collision which occurred on a sharp curve and in a deep cut. Both boilers exploded and the scene is horrible beyond description. Engineer Wm. Wall was killed on train No. 6, though his fireman named Wright, escaped by jumping, though he is seriously injured. Engineer F. T. Stewart and his fireman, Walter Bond, on the shifting engine, were both killed also Charlie Brewer, of Aberdeen, who it is said, was making the trip up on No. 6 to accept the position of fireman on the road.

JAPS TO SETTLE IN TEXAS.

Isolate the Japanese Expert Pleased with Rice Fields.

New Orleans, La., June 12.—As a result of his experiment in rice farming near Del Rio, Texas, with a colony of four Japanese, Isomoto, the Japanese expert, has decided to return to his home and organize a colony of one hundred farmers to settle on lands in the rice belt of Texas along the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Isomoto says the experimental farming has been as successful as he could expect it to be. Within a few years the rice lands of Louisiana and Texas will be filled with Japanese rice farmers. Mr. Isomoto will leave soon for New York.

SCHOONER WRECKED.

The Lucy H. Russell goes to pieces near Batters.

Norfolk, Va., June 12.—The big schooner Lucy H. Russell, which was driven ashore on Gull Shoals near Cape Hatteras during a terrific thunderstorm early Sunday morning, was washed almost completely to pieces by the heavy seas that prevailed on that coast last night. Part of the wreckage lay ashore today and the hulk is now filled with water. The crew of ten men, saved by the life-savers yesterday, are still on the beach.

The Russell was bound from Boston to Brunswick, Ga., to load railroad ties. She was over one thousand tons register and measured two hundred feet in length. Her principal owners were in New York.

Literary Note of the Day Designer.

The well-known home and fashion magazine, The Designer, published by the Standard Fashion Company of New York City, has been reduced in price from $1.00 to 80 cents a year. The great aim of the Designer is to help women along all practical and beautiful lines, by gathering for them and giving to them the latest information on all fashion and domestic matters.

society Without a Master.

In the June CAUCASIAN appears an excellent character sketch of George Gilbert Williams, President of the Chemical National Bank, New York, by Robert N. Burnett. Mr. Williams' reply to the question "To what do you owe your success in life?" would seem affected in many, says the author, but it was purely natural and typical of the man. He said:

"I attribute it to Divine power and uprightness of transaction. I take no stock in the notion that one cannot succeed without so-called commercial sharpness, or trickery.

Any young man will succeed who is diligent and practices uprightness.

Mind you, all cannot reach the top round. In the banking and the great army must follow the routine departments, but occasional fits for advancement are ever present."

The State board of assessors, the Auditor and the Finance Committee of the House are expected to hold a meeting within the next few days to devise plans for increasing the revenues. It is probable at this meeting it will be decided to recommend to the next Legislature the adoption of the New York franchise tax law. Odell writes that the system of taxing franchises in New York is more than satisfactory, and the law has got the tests of all the courts in the state. If that system can be adopted in South Carolina the income of the State will be more than doubled. The assessments on railroads have been raised this year, and it is expected that an increase of about $20,000 will be derived from such property.

THE WILSON MURDER.

The State Rests and the Defense Offers Testimony.

The trial of the murderer Percy Jones at Wilson is still in progress. The state rests and the defense is now offering testimony. We will give you account of the important facts and the decision of the court in our next issue. It looks now that Justice will be meted out to the slayers of Jones.

Raleigh, N. C., May 29, 1903.

Entered at the Post Office in Raleigh,
N. C., as second-class mail matter.Troops in Richmond to Protect General Court.

Richmond, Va., June 22.—After a day in which the mob ruled absolutely, the governor, on solicitation of the mayor, this morning, issued a call for a regiment of soldiers to protect the property of the Readiness Passenger and Power Company, whose employees are on a strike. Messages by telegraph and telephone were sent ordering the companies at Alexandria, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Fredericksburg, Danville, Charlottesville, Staunton and Farmville to report for duty as possible.

Boots Long in Heavy Combat Shows
Return to His Father's Road.

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 22.—Virgil Long, a negro mail carrier from this place to Pittsboro, is now hovering at death's door as a result of a deadly combat between him and his son, seized hatchet and deliberately struck the father on the top of the head, literally crushing the skull. At this hour Long is still living but the physicians have abandoned all hope of recovery. Reports concerning the cause of trouble between the father and son are meagre.

CUT HER OWN THROAT

Mrs. Chapman Kills Herself in Her Family's Presence.

Pelham, N. C., June 22.—Mrs Thomas Chapman, living near Chandlers Mill, four miles from her, in a fit of derangement Thursday, took a razor and in the presence of her husband and family cut her throat from ear to ear, nearly severing the wind pipe, dying today from the effects of the cut.

An Ann Arbor Student Turns Up
Dead in Washington

Washington, June 21.—John H. Henselman, Jr., a student at Ann Arbor University, who apparently is suffering from overstudy, is detained here by the police pending the arrival of his father from Covington, Ind. The young man arrived in the city to-day and attracted attention at his hotel by distributing tips of five-dollar bills to the waiters. It is understood he wrote a letter addressed to President Roosevelt threatening that unless his father's influence was used to further certain alleged inventions in land deals of magnitude two or more men would be killed.

A Young Woman Drinks Carbolic Acid
While Her Lover Shoots Himself

Sheridan, Pa., June 21.—A pair of young lovers, Ernest Schmid and Miss Jessie Brennan, both of Greenwood, were the participants in a double tragedy early this evening, which resulted in the former's death and which will probably also prove fatal in the case of the girl. The two had loved each other devotedly for several months, but another woman from Schmid's old home intervened a week ago and sought to hold him to an alleged engagement with her. This led the pair to seek relief in death and they apparently planned to-night's gift with much deliberation.

SAFE BLOWER BLOWN UP

Dropped a Can of Nitro-Glycerine and Was Badly Mangled.

Noblesville, Ind., June 21.—George Marvin, said to be from Chicago, is in the county jail here in a dying condition, as a result of an alleged attempt to blow the safe in a general store at Jolietteville. Citizens of the village who were awakened by a terrible explosion found Marvin lying unconscious near the store, with one arm blown away and his body otherwise so terribly mangled that he cannot live. When the citizens approached another man ran away, making his escape. The accidental dropping of a can of nitro-glycerine was the cause of the explosion.

Boy's Head Cut Off

Washington, June 22.—George Loxy, a six-year-old boy, had his head completely severed from his body today by the wheel of a trolley car.

Best His Young Wife

Norfolk, June 22.—Another chapter of the sensational eloquence from Norfolk and the marriage of James H. Tufts, 59 years old, and Louise Titus, an 18 year old school girl, was a partial police investigation here today in which Tufts, the young wife and the latter's father, J. A. Titus, figured.

After their marriage in Elizabeth City, N. C., the Tufts went to Baltimore and were immediately entertained in the southern section of that city by an ex-member of the Boston city council, who had been a close friend of Tufts in earlier life. Lengthy accounts of the eloquence were published in Baltimore and the newspapers made many unsuccessful efforts to secure photographs of the couple.

Shortly after the bridal trip there was trouble in the family. Tufts now is charged by his young wife with threatening to kill her. There has been a separation. Mrs. Tufts was in court today with her father, who charges Tufts with beating him. Tufts is charged with throwing bricks at Tufts. The case adjourned until June 26 for further evidence. All parties were called.

Farm Topics

FODDER LOSS.

It is the storm-beaten fodder that is left uneaten, and it is the loss of this fodder that compels the farmer to feed his hay. The loss of corn fodder is a waste of a portion of the corn crop. As the fodder, when properly preserved, is nearly equal in value to the grain, no farmer can afford to allow his fodder to be wasted.

BROODY HENS.

If any of the hens wish to go on the nest and remain let them do so. There is no better way to get a hen in good laying condition than to let her remain on the nest two weeks and then break her up. When hens go on the nest with the intention of hatching out a brood they do so because they are out of condition for laying. To attempt to break them up at once is to violate natural laws, and nothing will be gained by it, as such hens will lay only a few eggs and then become broody again. When they are on the nest give them but little food, a meal once in two days being sufficient.—Mirror and Farmer.

A WHITE WHITEWASH.

Each spring there is a number of inquiries regarding the formula of the whitewash used by the United States Government on lighthouses and other buildings which it is desired to keep white. This whitewash is more expensive and troublesome to make than the ordinary kinds, but it has a brilliancy and a whiteness which it retains, and in these respects differs from the ordinary mixture. Take a half-bushel of good stone lime and slake it in boiling water, keeping it covered. After straining add a half-peck of salt, dissolved in warm water, three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, one pound of clear glue, dissolved in warm water, and one-half pound of powdered Spanish whiting. Mix together thoroughly and let it stand for a week. When wanted for application, heat and apply as hot as it is possible to handle it, using a clean brush for the purpose. It is best kept in an iron receptacle.

GRASS FOR CHICKS.

There is scarcely one thing so conducive to the health of young chicks as a plot of ground where grass or clover grows abundantly. The little fellows run about gathering a sprig here or a worm or bug there, all the time growing and gaining strength and vigor. Chicks that stay where the grass grows are always thrifty, never have gapes, and invariably grow rapidly. They learn early in life to hustle, and after they have reached maturity the habit does not forsake them.

A woodland makes a delightful spot for rearing chicks, the shade, the insect life and the grass all combining to aid the growth and develop the health of the chick. The only objection to such a place is the danger from wild animals and hawks, but this is not always the case, and when possible, we should advise selecting a rolling, sparsely timbered woodland. In any event, though, select a spot where grass grows abundantly.—Home and Farm.

KICKING BLOCK FOR HORSES.

Nearly all the present methods of endeavoring to prevent a horse from kicking are more or less dangerous to the safety of the animal, and in the case of a valuable animal this is almost as much of a consideration as the safety of the owner or the groom. The most common method in vogue is the use of the chain and log, but it is an almost everyday occurrence for an animal to be ruined for life by this device.

An exceedingly simple method, and one which is claimed to be very effective, was recently the subject of a patent granted to George Lewis. The general appearance of this device is shown in the accompanying cut. The rear part is hard and unyielding, constructed preferably of wood and in the shape of a letter "U" and the fore part consists of a strap which holds the block in place, making a snug fit around the horse's foot at the fetlock joint.

The instant a horse attempts to raise his heels in an endeavor to kick, the effect of the device is to place the foot or hoof upon the floor and to practically prevent him from kicking. In a short time a kicking horse gives up the effort and is entirely broken of the habit. The device also prevents the horse from pawing, capping his hocks, bruising his legs, and from in various ways injuring and disabling himself.—Philadelphia Record.

Needed Something Stronger.

Bishop Potter is an enthusiastic golf player. Some time ago he was on the links at Saranac, accompanied by a caddie who was himself a golfer of acknowledged skill. The bishop made ready for a mighty drive and, with one tremendous swing, he topped the ball. Of course, he was deprived of the consolation which in such cases serves to soothe the temper of the layman. All he said was, "Sh-sh-sh-sh-sh."

It was his way of relieving his feelings. Then he tried again. This time he scolded up some cubic feet of sod, and once more the blight but ineffective protest escaped his lips. For the third time the bishop teed his ball, for the fourth time his driver missed the mark and for the third time he unburred his oppressed soul as above. The caddie could stand it no longer.

"Hang it, man!" he exclaimed, "sh-sh-sh-sh won't send that ball where you want it to go!"—St. Louis Post Dispatch.
